Dr. Henry A. Kissinger
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Henry:

Here is the testimony I gave before the Foreign Relations Committee during the recent hearings on the Geneva Protocol. The paper deals mainly with the military implications of the use of tear gas and includes a summary of the opinions of field-level commanders who I have talked with here and in Vietnam.

Some of these officers impressed me as being especially thoughtful on the subject and I will pass their names along to Michael Guhin in case that would be of any help.

With warm regards.

As ever,

Matthew Meselson
