Dear Matt:

I just got back from a trip abroad and only now have had a chance to get to your letter. Please excuse the delay.

I read the article in the Christian Science Monitor and found it very much up to par. Thanks for the additional copy.

In answer to your question I must hem and haw. I gave a copy of the resolution to Steve Terry, but, thus far, it has not elicited any response. I thought that our plan was for you to casually call him and ask his reaction and that, thereafter, you would get in touch with me.

Perhaps I misunderstood. At any rate, let's get the above plan started. If you prefer, I will call Terry myself.

I await your much-needed advice.

With best regards.

Sincerely,

Rick Gilmore
