Dear Nick,

It was good talking with you the other day, although it would have been better to see you and find out what you have been doing the past couple of years. What I have been doing isn't greatly different from before except that the CBW control problem has been getting more serious and fruitful consideration..

I enclose for your interest a small library to bring you up to date.

If you should ever be interested in photographs of defoliated forests and crops in Vietnam, I have quite a large number in addition to those reproduced in the Sierra Club Bulletin.

I look forward to seeing you again sometime somewhere.

With warm regards,

Matthew Meselson
