Dear Matt:

On the problem covered in your memorandum of 1 November, worrywarts are what we need. I will admit that in my frustration over the general question of the Administration's ways and means of extrication, I am not able to put this specific question right at the top of the list, but it also seems clear to me that what you propose makes excellent sense and could easily be a part of any responsible bargain between Washington and Saigon.

As ever,

McGeorge Bundy
