

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
US ARMY WAR COLLEGE
CARLISLE BARRACKS, PENNSYLVANIA 17013

IN REPLY REFER TO:

Office of the Commandant

12 June 1972

JUN 14 1972

Dear Professor Meselson:

Our 18th Annual National Strategy Seminar brought to a most fitting close another successful academic year for the US Army War College and marked an enlightening culmination of a year of intensive study for our Class of 1972, which graduated this morning.

I personally appreciate your willingness to devote a substantial portion of your limited time to engage in substantive and candid discussions with members of the College. Your contributions were an important factor in making this year's Seminar a most useful and rewarding experience. I know both the students and our faculty deeply value the privilege of having met and exchanged ideas with you.

If you did not have time to complete our questionnaire before your departure, we would welcome your comments; further, we would be pleased to receive any additional thoughts or suggestions you may have which would improve the methodology, content, or administrative arrangements for future Seminars.

Again, please accept my warmest thanks for participating in our 18th Annual National Strategy Seminar.

Cordially,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Franklin M. Davis, Jr.".

FRANKLIN M. DAVIS, JR.
Major General, USA
Commandant

Matthew Meselson, Ph.D.
Professor of Biology
Harvard University
Cambridge, Massachusetts 02163