Dear Michael,

The post card of the japanese garden had a welcome cooling effect on us all. Thanks for the thought. Craig and Jill Johnstone and their little daughter are staying with us for a week and we are trying to beat the heat at the swimming pool next door which you should come try too.

Under separate cover I am sending the book by Samuel Eliot Morison that I liked so much.

Regarding revelations of the past week, I am moved to quip that if I am one of the twenty-one worst academic enemies, then with enemies like me they don't need friends.

as ever,

P.S. Try your hand at the following rebus. (Hint: most rebuses are in French.)
