Dear Matt,

It was really good seeing you and Sarah again, having a chance to chat and to meet the Stobbs. The evening was very enjoyable for both Nicole and me, the restaurant delightful, et cetera - many thanks! Wish there had been more time, but there will always be a next time.

Now I am back burning the candle at both ends so that the chapter is finished on time and April can be spent in Europe.

Upon looking through my briefcase after boarding the train (which was full except for being first 70 degrees too cold and then 40 degrees too hot), I discovered that the picture of the Protocol signing was still there. It is being forwarded under separate for your files.

Hope to see you down here soon. Best and good cheer to you, Sarah and, of course, Zoe and Ulan.
