Dear John,

I will be away from Cambridge until 23 August. I hope that the sponsorship of our chemical weapons meeting can be settled by that time so that I can send out letters of invitation during that week. Later this month I think we will see a new and encouraging draft treaty on chemical weapons presented at the CDC by the United Kingdom. This will fit in well with the time of our conference and enhance the chances of its success.

Sincerely yours,

Matthew Meselson
