Dear Matt:

This is to thank you for your participation in the Forum on "Research with Recombinant DNA" as a workshop chairman. Your hard work and coordination of content resulted in an impressively substantive report within a short period of time. The substance of your report adds measurably to the publication; particularly important is the impression of poles narrowing in the smaller groups.

The workshops were an experiment for the Forum, and they were a success, thanks to you and the other chairmen. Early next month we are holding a Forum on "Coal as an Energy Resource: Conflict and Consensus," and based on our experience in the DNA Forum we are planning to continue the experiment.

Thank you again for your involvement, hard work, and splendid product.

Sincerely yours,

Daniel E. Koshland, Jr.
Chairman
