Dear Gerry,

Here is a draft of the article Julian Robinson and I have prepared for you. If it is generally acceptable, we would welcome your editorial and other suggestions to take into account along with comments we are soliciting from others. Even though much has been written on the subject since your 1946 curtain raiser in Life, we think the article breaks some important new ground.

We will need help with figures and photographs, but some photographs are enclosed and some suggested sources for others are noted at the end of the article.

With best regards to you and Eleanor,

as ever,

Matthew Meselson

Encls.
