Dear Dr. Meselson,

I spent considerable time in my office in the U.W. ^{Bio-}Chemistry Bldg. this forenoon looking up reprints of articles relating to T-2 toxin that I thought might be of interest to you. The ones that I selected are being sent you from the Departmental Office.

Unfortunately I was unable to locate the one that I described to you over the phone and in which you were particularly interested. However, I did find the reference which is: C. F. Mayer, The Military Surgeon, vol. 113, pp. 173 and 295, (1953). I hope you will be able to locate this article.

I also sent a copy of a ^{personal} letter from a Dutch worker that provides the names and addresses of several workers in this area that also may be of interest to you.

None of this material needs to be returned. I would be interested in knowing something about your work and interest in the general subject of mycotoxins. I think the work in this area has hardly received the attention it deserves.

Sincerely yours

F. M. Strong

P.S. If you wish to contact me in any way please use my home address & phone as I am very seldom in my office at the Peckham Bldg.
