Dear Matt:

I thought you might be interested in this review on Trichothecenes which I have written for "Progress in Cellular & Subcellular Biology" & which will appear next year. I refused to write it when first asked, but relented after many phone calls from the editor after catching up on ~350 papers ^{which appeared} since 1976. I spent my weekends in Sept & Oct. putting this together. I would be pleased to receive any comments & criticisms you may have, if indeed you have time to look through the paper.

Best regards,

Jim Bamberg
