Dear Sergui,

I must apologize for telling you the wrong date for when we would like to have your article for the Chemical Weapons Convention Bulletin. It would be fine if you could send it to me here at Harvard by Monday August 2. If e-mail is convenient for you, msm@isr.harvard.edu is my e-mail address. Otherwise, post or fax will also be fine.

As for your possible visit to the US in July, we would be very glad to invite you to be the guest of the Harvard Sussex Program if you could arrange to attend our meeting in Washington on Monday July 12. This will be at the Hotel Henley Park, 926 Massachusetts Avenue, NW. (Telephone 202-638-5200.) We will begin with lunch at noon and will continue until about 5:00 PM. You would be welcome at all or any part of the meeting. Those present will be James Leonard, Charles Flowerree, Will Carpenter, Jonathan Dean, Julian Robinson and me. It is a very pleasant hotel and we would be glad to reserve a room there for you. If you would like us to do this, please let me know by fax. Our principal agenda item is a discussion of what our Program can do in the coming year to facilitate the global adherence and implementation of the CWC.

With best wishes,

Matthew
