Matt -

Mea culpa?? I've just had a 'phone conversation with Julian (we can't, unfortunately, manage schedules to get together on this trip of mine) and he tells me that I've said - or was reported as said - something to which you've taken exception. I'm not sure what I could have said, particularly since I think I've been rather candid with you re "yellow rain" (if that was it) but I can't say more without knowing what I'm reported as having said - In any case, perhaps we can have a pleasant row over text with a bottle of a good Burgundy or whatever.

I'll be back in the U.S. next week - for a while, anyway.

With best,

Stewart

P.S. Since I'm not absolutely sure your ~~old~~ address at home is 62 Shepherd St., I'll send this to you o/h.
