Dear General Chervov,

You will be interested in the above report from the USA which appeared in the International Herald Tribune of 14 April. No doubt the story appeared in the New York Times. The visit of the Soviet scientists was arranged by Professor Matthew Meselson, and we thank you for your help in this matter.

I look forward to seeing you at our Workshop in Geneva from 11-13 June. As usual, Mr. Robert McNamara, Lord Zuckerman and high military figures from NATO and WTO will attend as well as Richard Garwin, Jack Ruina and others you know. The meeting will start after lunch on 11 June and will continue until lunch time on 13 June. On the afternoon of 13 June we are arranging a press conference. On the evening of 11 June there will be a cocktail reception and for dinner on 12 June I will invite the leading people, including yourself, to a private dinner.

With best personal wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Martin M. Kaplan
Secretary-General
