Dear Dr. Meselson:

Thank you for going over your text on chemical and biological weapons and for returning the galley proofs. I have carried the qualifying term "activated" to the reference to charcoal and other adsorptive forms of carbon. (This was on the proofs, but we didn't cover it in our telephone conversation.) In regard to the Ypres front, the text will read "a four-mile (six-kilometre) front..." This will preserve the original metric figure while providing an English figure for our readers that, for all intents and purposes, is accurate enough. Your other corrections have also been carried.

We have left a note in your file that you wish to receive two sets of offprints of The Technology of WAR. You should receive them by next June at the latest.

It has been a pleasure working with you.

Sincerely,

Robert Curley
