

The Permanent Mission of Canada
to the United Nations

La Mission Permanente du Canada
auprès des Nations Unies

1, rue du Pré-de-la-Bichette
1202 Geneva

February 1, 1990

Dr. M. Meselson
Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology
Harvard University
7 Divinity Ave.
Cambridge, Massachusetts, 02/38
USA

Dear Matthew,

I was pleased to receive your note a couple of weeks ago indicating that you would be in Geneva for Pugwash. Unfortunately I was busy on other matters that weekend and was not at the Pugwash meeting, so we missed connections. We have Ron Sutherland who goes to Pugwash and as a knowledgeable academic he fits the role much better than I do now that I am entrenched as a negotiator in the CD.

Unfortunately a penalty one pays for working for the Government is that little is published with one's name on it, so I have no current contribution to send to you. However I enjoyed reading yours.

I don't know if I will get back into Pugwash again next year or not. Much depends on whether Sutherland continues to receive support from Ottawa. If I do, I am sure we will see each other again there. In the meantime if you manage to come through Geneva again, please give me a call at the Mission and perhaps we can get together over lunch or at least coffee.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read 'M.C. Hamblin', written over a printed name.

M.C. Hamblin