Dear Mr. Matthew Meselson,

I am informing you that a number of Soviet scientists and public figures from the USSR Academy of Sciences, the Soviet Peace Committee and the Soviet Trade Unions are planning to convene in Moscow at the end of this year an international meeting of scientists, representatives of public organizations, trade unions of different countries to discuss various questions, related to the prohibition of chemical weapons.

We intend to set up a preparatory committee in order to formulate an agenda, to define the possible participants of the meeting and to discuss other organizational questions.

I would appreciate to see you among the members of this preparatory committee.

The first session of the committee is planned to be held in Moscow in the middle of coming June (June 14-16). All necessary expenses (transport, hotel) could be favourably considered by the Soviet side.

Please, let me know if you can find it possible to accept this invitation.

I am informing you that the same invitations are being sent to Mr. Dimitrios Houlis, Mr. J. Perry-Robinson, Mr. Johan Lundin, Mr. Jorma Miettinen, Mr. Esmat Ezz, Mr. Martin M. Kaplan.

Yours sincerely,

Victor Issraelyan

The Chairman of the Commission on international security and disarmament of the Soviet Peace
Committee, Ambassador
