Dear Professor Meselson:

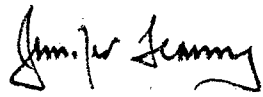

Enclosed, at long last, is a copy of the report on the PHR medical fact-finding mission to Tbilisi which you so generously read and commented on last fall.

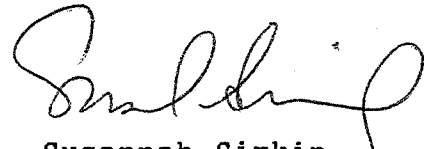

The suggestions of the reviewers came from a variety of perspectives and specialties. They were most thoughtful and showed a close reading of the document. Some presented us with dilemmas which we had to resolve by striking compromises on content, tone, or length of discussion. Others prodded our own thinking, encouraging us to sharpen or clarify certain points. In all respects, the final document is much improved by your critiques.

On behalf of the authors and the PHR staff, we wish to thank you tremendously for your significant contribution to the work of PHR. Please let us know if there are colleagues or other individuals you think should receive this report.

With much gratitude and appreciation,

Sincerely yours,

 Jennifer Leaning, M.D.

Your comments were extremely massive and helpful. We deeply appreciate the gift of your time and expertise.
