Dear Matt,

Thank you for your letter of the 21st February ^{and} for letting me have your two articles, one of which I had already seen. I fully share your view that these two issues must be resolved before the Third Review Conference on BWC, for the Conference to be able to take further, worthwhile steps and generate confidence. What is eventually going to be the most crucial factor is the development of a climate in which truth, concern, and positive and constructive criticism, takes the place of allegations based on inadequate and inconclusive evidence.

I have just accepted to participate in the meeting in Geneva on BWC from the 31st May to the 2nd June; my decision to accept the invitation of the organisers was largely based on their telling me that you, too, would be participating in the meeting.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

Pushpa
