

Helms

CHRISTINE MOSS HELMS

2138 CALIFORNIA STREET, N.W.
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20008

TELEPHONE (202) 234-0830

Dr. Matthew Meselson
Department of Biochemistry
Fairchild Biochemistry Building
7 Divinity Avenue
Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138

AUG 31 1992

August 26, 1992

Matt -

Dear Dr. Meselson:

Thank you for your support of my application for the position of program associate for the AAAS Program on Science and International Security. Tom Wander, the program director who will review applications, returns the first week of September. Prior to that, I wanted to line up several nominators. Jack Gibbons, director of the Office of Technology Assessment; George Demko, formerly the geographer of the U.S. State Department and now director of the Nelson Rockefeller Center at Dartmouth; and Richard Grimmett, defense and foreign policy expert at the Congressional Research Service, have also agreed to provide letters.

In addition to an updated resume, enclosed please find a description of the job opening, Wander's request for nominations, and a xerox of the covering letter I wrote to the human resources department in response to the original announcement. I have also enclosed a recent editorial of mine solicited by The Baltimore Sun which, I hope, will provide a little amusement in return for your consideration.

Once again, thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Christine M. Helms

Christine M. Helms