Professor Matthew Meselson

Dear Professor Meselson:

I have had the distinct pleasure of following many of your writings regarding biological and chemical warfare. As background for some research that I am doing, I am most interested in knowing of current research that may involve recombinant DNA techniques in addition to techniques which may be considered psycho-active. I would be most grateful if you have information in this area if you could forward this to me. I am interested in research both in our country and in countries outside the United States.

I realize you must receive many such requests and I have enclosed a check to help cover the cost of copying.

Sincerely,

Alan A. Halpern, M.D.
