

MIKE WALLACE

Adler & Robin Books, Inc.
3000 Connecticut Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20008
Tel: 202-595-2260; Fax: 202-318-4848
mikewallace@AdlerRobin.com

February 12, 2007

Dr. Matthew Meselson
Thomas Dudley Cabot Professor of Natural Sciences
Harvard University
16 Divinity Avenue
Room 363
Cambridge, MA 02138

Dear Matthew Meselson,

The world is an uncertain place, which is why the future and the unknown fascinate us.

I have been asked by Thomas Nelson (one of the country's largest and most prestigious publishers) to edit a book titled:

THE WAY WE WILL BE 50 YEARS FROM TODAY

For the book, we are asking distinguished people from all walks of life and from around the world to tell us in one to three pages how they see the future and what they believe the world and life will be like a half-century from today.

You can write from your own experiences in your area of expertise or any scenario of the future that you believe is possible.

I hope you will join me in this journey to the world of tomorrow.

Because space in the book is limited, I would appreciate your letting me know if you will contribute by March 9; your essay does not need to be completed until April 25.

It is a trip we believe many will find fascinating.

Sincerely,

Mike Wallace
60 Minutes, CBS

P.S. Everyone whose submission is in the book will receive a signed copy of the book.