

June 3, 1963

Professor William Doering
Sterling Chemistry Laboratory
Yale University
New Haven, Connecticut

Dear Bill:

Michael Brower is sending you the latest draft of his nuclear strategy paper. I think it is a great improvement and have no reservation about the Council issuing it. I was impressed when Michael and I went over the previous version in Chicago last month by the objectivity and flexibility with which he viewed the various suggestions and criticisms we had made of his manuscript.

I will be spending two months at the Disarmament Agency in Washington beginning June 10 and will be available for whatever nocturnal activities the Council might require.

Best wishes,

WM / JAS