Dear Matt:

Many thanks for your kind thought in sending me the mimeographed report of the Pugwash proposal which you presumably presented at the Venice meeting in April and which, unfortunately, I couldn't get to, close as I was.

I have no clue as to how it was received and what, if any, action has been taken by what I understand to be the group of small nations to which this was addressed. It would be useful to know if any steps are contemplated by them and something of their general nature.

Greetings and very truly yours,

Melvin Calvin
Professor of Chemistry
