Dear Matt:

Enclosed is a redraft of the paper on the Geneva Protocol you gave me. I have tried to shorten it, but to add material on the positions of the various presidents.

My Law Review article was based on the assumption which, as a lawyer, I stated as an assumption but did not argue: that the first use of poison gas and germs in war is against our national interest. I recommend that this be the first point in the "pro and con" arguments.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

George Bunn
