Mr. Dennis Flanagan
Editor,
Scientific American
415 Madison Avenue
New York, N.Y. 10017

Dear Mr. Flanagan,

In answer to your letter of February 24, I enclose my curriculum vitae. A longer biography has been sent to you directly by the Harvard University News Office. I also enclose a list of my writings on CBW.

The following items would be suitable for inclusion in the bibliography.

- x 1) "Chemical and Bacteriological (Biological) Weapons and the Effects of Their Possible Use", Report of the Secretary General of the United Nations, 1969. Available from the United Nations, Sales Section, New York, N.Y. for $1.00, Sales No.E.69.I.24.
- 2) "Health Aspects of Chemical and Biological Weapons", Report of a World Health Organization group of consultants, 1970. Available from Columbia University Press, 136 South Broadway, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York 10533 for $4.00. (You may check with Columbia University Press to make sure they are still the U.S. distributors).
- 3) "Proceedings of the Conference on Chemical and Biological Warfare" sponsored by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the Salk Institute. Copies may be obtained through the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 280 Newton Street, Brookline, Massachusetts.
- 4) "Chemical-Biological Warfare: U.S. Policies and International Effects", Hearings before the Subcommittee on National Security Policy and Scientific Developments of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, House of Representatives, 1970. (Available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402 for $2.25. (This includes the above items as appendices).)

You should also include the SIPRI study on CBW if it is available in time. It will be the most detailed, factual description of the history, weapons, legal aspects, etc. to be published. Their address is: Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, Sveavagen 166, 113 46 Stockholm, Sweden.

Sincerely yours ,

Matthew Meselson
