Dear Mat, many thanks for a copy of the offprint from Foreign Policy, and congratulations to you all for such a thorough rebuttal of the Yellow Rain story.

I asked the editor of the Melbourne Age if they wanted a summary of what you'd written, plus a round up.
He replied that his readers all knew it was a CIA stunt which had been buried long ago. The press needs bad guys! But the story never really took off here anyway.

I finally met Nicholas Tapp at the Thai Studies Conference here in Australia in July. We have a tentative agreement to join forces in the future and do work together in the Thai camps to see what is left of the story year after. If we ever do it you'll definitely be on our mailing list. Give my regards to Julian & Jeanne best wishes
