Hi Steve, Been in the field and am reading this for first time tonight. I don't have a dog in the fight, but saying we had "free" access to Cambodia don't pass the common sense test. If you ask me, (and no one will care what I think) Looks like certain parties have been out of the limelight so long that they are dredging up past history for personal reasons. Hope you are well, Ron

Subject: Final Draft

Dear Steve,

Here is the up to date draft for you and your colleagues to read and possibly correct or comment on -- instead of the older draft you have. I should send it to the editors at Monterey before the end of this week.

Again, may thanks for your help and that of your colleagues. A great team!
