Matthew,

Steve is the only one of us who has ever seen the still classified documents to which he refers.

Hi Doc C,

I have read and thought through the document which you sent me. I have made comments where I could. I can agree with most of the thought processes involved.

However, the authors are traveling on a road that is based only on information which has been "released" from government classification. In short, there are other parts of the story which might contribute to the discussion, yet cannot.

Attached is my mark-up of the paper.

Steve W.
