

w.L. Cunnion

Matthew Meselson <msmeselson@gmail.com>

YR pics and my microbiologist hunt

1 message

Stephen Cunnion <cunnion@comcast.net>

Fri, Apr 27, 2007 at 2:14 PM

To: Matthew Meselson <msm@wjh.harvard.edu>

Matthew,

You have finally gotten me to start organizing the YR photos we took from 1983 to 1986. Have attached ten that are an olio of events.

I have decided to expand the scope of my hunt for a laboratory overseer. The BioSecurity & Safety folks I seek now would management stateside via phone and the Internet and would be required to visit laboratories to confirm the proper use of documents, equipment and facilities (ergo, their BS&S programs) several times a year. For instance, in the Ukraine, the contract would involve about 40 labs (some former bioweapons labs) and would be run by their scientists. That is why we are looking for people who have been exposed to the culture and systems of the old USSR so misunderstandings and unrealistic expectations are not a problem during setup.

left to right, top to bottom:

Control village for indigenous YR

A yellow spot!

Hmong subject village on Lao border

Steve Waugh collects mold from rice storage house at Hmong subject village

Some alleged samples from 1983

Scapes

Jane Hamilton-Merritt

Russian decontamination kit (Cambodia)

Bee hive

Typical Hmong house on Lao border

2 attachments

collage2.JPG
932K

collage1.JPG
910K

